At the outset, the Convenor welcomes all members present in the meeting and starts discussion on the following agendas:

Agenda 1: Further plan of MOOCs Committee for present semester

The courses offered by NPTEL for the current semester were discussed. It was also decided that these courses will be displayed on the college notice board. All members were instructed to ensure that students are properly informed about the available courses and the associated credit points. Furthermore, it was emphasized that students should be encouraged to register for and complete as many courses as needed to qualify for the B. Tech with Honors degree.

In a previous discussion with the SPOC of the NPTEL Student Chapter about the courses eligible for the B. Tech with Honors degree, it was noted that several online platforms have emerged since the COVID pandemic, offering certificates without actually providing courses. As a result, students have been submitting these certificates for consideration. To address this, the committee has decided that, starting from this semester, students must submit details of the MOOCs they wish to enroll in to the faculty-in-charge of their respective departments for approval.

Only after receiving approval from the faculty-in-charge can students participate in the course, and the certificate will then be valid for the MOOCs requirement. A formal application outlining these new resolutions has been forwarded to the Principal of RERFGI for approval. If approval is granted, the updated guidelines will be communicated to the students.
